

Animal Policy

November 11, 2014

1. Guide/ Service/ Police animals are welcome in the Library at any time without prior notice to the Library or public.
2. Therapy animals with current certification are welcome in the library with arrangements made between the handler and library staff.
3. Only animals that are part of programming are welcome in the library.
4. Service animals and animals that are part of programming in the library must be on a leash, properly caged, or otherwise in control of the handler at all times.
5. Signs will be posted in advance to inform public that animals will be present in the library due to allergy or other public concerns (except for guide, service, and police animals).